

PUBLIC PROGRAMMES

Short Courses

the school of coaching

We pride ourselves on offering engaging, inspiring & challenging courses, which build expertise & equip you with the latest coaching skills & practices

At The School of Coaching we are passionate about supporting you to reach your full potential. .

Our Short Courses are distinct and separate from our renowned flagship Coach's Programme, an International Coach Federation (ICF) Accredited Coach Training Programme (ACSTH) and leads to EMCC accreditation at Senior Practitioner Level. They are designed to concentrate on specific coaching skills 'Coaching for Performance & Productivity' targeted at anyone wanting to get the best from their people for experienced or new coaches.

Our Short Courses are concise, practical and benefit people with varying levels of knowledge and experience. They are aimed at introducing coaching to new coaches and line managers as well as expanding and developing the skills of experienced coaches interested in continued professional development. They offer huge professional benefits for both companies and individuals.

“For me, the single most valuable and, in a way, most profound piece of professional development I have ever had has been the coaching training from The School of Coaching.”

Susan Rice, CEO, Lloyds TSB Scotland

Learning With The School

The School of Coaching's track record of development has led to an unparalleled ability to develop practical coaching skills and abilities in others. We have learnt that coaching skills are best learnt through practice and experience and have developed best practice models, techniques and approaches that give individual participants a high level of knowledge, skill and confidence in a short time.

All our short courses are led by knowledgeable and experienced global executive coaches. They are able to offer a unique level of wisdom and practical support. The majority of the short courses will be led by Myles Downey one of the world's most renowned coaches and author of 'Effective Coaching' a seminal text in executive coaching.

The School has worked closely with the European Mentoring and Coaching Council (EMCC) to create standards and codes of practice for use throughout the coaching industry and adheres to these codes of practice.

Finally, we know that the best learning comes with enjoyment. We strive to ensure that our short courses provide both.

This brochure will tell you about the different short courses we are offering. If you would like to discuss any aspect of these programmes, then please call us on +44 (0)20 8987 7480.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Our Short Courses

Our Programme of Short Courses teaches specific coaching skills. They are designed to introduce coaching to new coaches and line managers and expand and develop the skills of experienced coaches interested in continued professional development (CPD).

Our short courses are workshop based. You will be taught The School's unique models and concepts, coaching demonstrations and practice and techniques to develop specific skills by our Faculty who are among the most knowledgeable and experienced executive coaches in the world.

Places are limited to allow you to gain a high level of observation and feedback. You will gain a broader knowledge of coaching skills and a greater opportunity to achieve a personal and professional edge. You will be able to reference the comprehensive take away workbook to practise your new skill sets.

For each short course you attend you will receive a certificate and each day will be allocated eight hours of CPD.

Coaching For Performance & Productivity

Two-Day Workshop

An engaging, highly experiential two-day workshop for senior managers and leaders interested in improving their ability to transform the performance of their direct reports. The workshop will be led by Myles Downey, recognised as one of the leading executive coaches globally.

Why you Should Attend

You will learn how to integrate coaching practice into existing performance management systems and day-to-day work life through the school's proprietary model of coaching and the fundamentals coaching skills and models.

Benefits of Attending

- Measurably increase the performance of your direct reports and others while also developing them for the future
- Increase levels of motivation, creativity & engagement
- Manage different levels of performance from under performers to high performers
- Embed effective coaching and management in personal leadership approach

Who Should Attend?

- Senior Managers
- Leaders

Course Structure

Day 1

- How to create conditions for high performance
- Leadership & Management
- Performance
- Coaching
- Skills: Listening & Asking Questions

Day 2

- Leadership Identity
- Positioning
- Feedback
- 'Critical Conversations'
- Performance Management System

Course Details

Length: Two Days

Time: 9.30am till 5.30pm

Venue: The School of Coaching, Chiswick London

Cost: £828 plus VAT

Call: 020 8987 7480

To Book a Course

If you would like to book a place on the course please fill out the booking form on our website and send to Rebecca Highley rhighley@theschoolofcoaching.com

excellence in coaching in service of business results

The School of Coaching

1st Floor | Building 5 | Chiswick Park
566 Chiswick High Road
London | W4 5YA |

Telephone +44 (0)20 8987 7480

Email info@theschoolofcoaching.com
www.theschoolofcoaching.com

Global Locations

- America
- Middle East
- South Africa
- Australia
- Asia

A Proud Sponsor

We are a proud sponsor of The Hunger Project, a global, strategic organisation committed to the sustainable end of world hunger.

